The Blue Fin Building is a large glass-fronted building situated next to the Tate Modern Art Gallery, close to the Southbank. The building can be accessed from the main road via the Southwark Street entrance through the two large, rotating doors in the middle of the building. The building houses several organisations and is not signed as Trinity College London.

Accessibility

Step-free access and lifts inside to enable easy access to the centre.

Arrival

The ground floor reception is located near the double doors of the Southwark Street entrance.

Getting there

By Underground and Rail

- Southwark, London Bridge and Blackfriars stations are all a short walk to the centre.

Southwark Station (Jubilee Line) is the closest tube station; it is 600m from the Blue Fin Building and takes approximately 7 minutes to walk.

- Exit the station and cross over the road at the traffic lights. Turn left and walk up Blackfriars Road, underneath the railway bridge. Turn right into Dolben Street and walk past the red brick houses, passing underneath another railway bridge. On the corner, you will see The White Hart Pub. Turn left onto Great Suffolk Street and walk down the road, passing Hilton BANKSIDE Hotel on your left. When you reach the traffic lights at the end of the road the Blue Fin Building will be across the road.

London Bridge Station (Jubilee and Northern lines) is 900m from the Blue Fin Building and takes approximately 15 minutes to walk.

- Take the Borough High Street exit from London Bridge Station and walk down Southwark Street. The Blue Fin Building is just past the M&S Simply Food and Pret a Manger.

Blackfriars Underground Station (District line and Railway) is 750m from the Blue Fin Building and takes approximately 10 minutes to walk.

- As you exit the ticket barriers from Blackfriars Station you will see an exit directly in front of you. Take this exit, turn left and walk over Blackfriars Bridge. Once over the bridge continue for another 100 metres then turn left under the blue bridge into Southwark Street. The Blue Fin Building is on the left-hand side just past Sumner Street.
